Description

Your doctor may recommend YEAST HEALTH CLEANSE if they suspect dysbiosis due to yeast overgrowth.

Ingredients

YEAST HEALTH CLEANSE is a synergetic formula designed for support of the GI tract during yeast overgrowth, with limited gastrointestinal symptoms. Pau D'Arco: Has been shown to be an effective agent against a wide range of organisms. Is very effective against Candida albicans. Sodium Caprylate: It is readily soluble along the gut wall and is an effective agent against a wide range of organisms. Grapefruit (Seed) Extract: The extract of the inner rind and seeds of grapefruits (Citrus racemosa) is becoming known as one the best internal natural antiseptics one can find. Oregano: Most of the activity of oregano comes from the volatile oils. Some of these volatile oils have been shown to have antifungal activities. Oregano leaves have traditionally been used for many gastrointestinal complaints. Goldenseal: Contains significant amounts of berberine alkaloids. These berberine alkaloids are excellent, non-specific, anti-microbial and anti-fungal agents. Ginger: Ginger has been used as an anti-nausea and stomachic aid. Most of the active principals in ginger are in the oil and resin fractions of the dried root. Cinnamon: Medicinally, it has been used to relive gas and bloating, stomachic, and an antiseptic. Chammomile (German): Cammomile has been shown to exhibit soothing properties. Biotin: An essential B vitamin, biotin aids in the prevention of yeast overgrowth. Biotin is shown to support complete digestion of waste byproducts within the digestive system, ensuring those particles are effectively eliminated rather than absorbed.
